

Tactics for Tight Times

Murray Dairy has increased the delivery of a range of services in response to seasonal and market impacts through the implementation of the 'Tactics for Tight Times' Program. This includes:

Taking Stock - a 1:1 business assessment and support service

Designed to help you take stock of your situation by providing free one-on-one business support, to assist dairy farm families to collect and analyse current financial and physical data with the aim of clarifying their future farm business options. This is available to all levy paying farmers, regardless of who they supply

Workshops, discussion group activities and on-farm days

Focused on business analysis and scenario planning, feed and water budgeting, climatic outlook and cropping/forage strategies relevant to farmers making key decisions on farm.

Social and community support programs

Including expanding the Victorian Farmers Federation's "Look Over the Farm Gate" program

This program is supported by:

Australian Government

Every farm is different, so it is important for you to understand your own situation well.

We recommend that you:

- > understand your financial position
- > talk with your trusted advisors, family, friends and/or neighbours
- > maintain regular contact with your financial lenders
- > maintain your relationship with your suppliers
- > don't lose focus of day to day on-farm decisions
- > think about the people in your business and implications for them

Everyone is dealing with a lot of uncertainty, so it's important to focus on the things in your control. 'Tactics for Tight Times' provides you with access to resources and practical advice.

You are not alone – seek support – seek advice
